

Driving for Work

Your employees are your greatest asset – look after them

Driving for Work is a targeted and cost-effective in-car driver training session.

It's the ideal way to keep your employees safe, increase driving confidence and equip them with skills for their professional and personal life.

Operating costs can be unpredictable, especially fuel costs and insurance premiums. But one thing is for sure: you'll always want to keep your costs low.

The course helps you achieve efficiencies in operating costs and reduce vehicle incident rates – the main cause behind rising insurance premiums.

You will also benefit from compliance with the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974.
