

Familiarisation with UK driving

Help your drivers adjust to UK roads

It's not just driving on the left that makes UK roads significantly different to other countries. Rules for handheld mobile phone use, pedestrian crossings and roundabouts all vary dramatically compared with other nations.

Our Familiarisation with UK Driving course helps employees who are foreign-nationals to get the hang of our road culture, the Highway Code, traffic regulations and a host of other conventions and concepts, from managing roundabouts to junctions and traffic lights.

This course ensures your international employees are driving to UK regulations and are less likely to come to harm or injure other road users. It also helps you satisfy your duty of care in providing a safe working environment.
